

EDWIN ARMSTRONG AT COLUMBIA FROM STUDENT TO RADIO PIONEER

A LECTURE BY MISCHA SCHWARTZ

Charles Batchelor Professor Emeritus, Electrical Engineering, Columbia University

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY
IN THE CITY OF NEW YORK
DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICS

ELECTRO-MECHANICS
ROOM 208 ENGINEERING BUILDING

W. E. Cushman E. H. Armstrong
April 12, 1915 April 12, 1915
J. G. Aenes
April 12, 1915

TUESDAY
NOVEMBER 16, 2010
6:00 PM

INTERSCHOOL LAB
750 SCHAPIRO CENTER
530 WEST 120TH STREET

A reception will immediately follow.

Edwin Armstrong (1890-1954) is primarily known as the inventor of FM radio. A Columbian and a pioneer in radio communications, his papers are housed in the Rare Book & Manuscript Library.